DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-9 and 16-18, drawn to a method of making a printed circuit card, classified in class 29, subclass 852.
- II. Claims 19-29, drawn to a printed circuit card, classified in class 174, subclass 262.

Inventions I and II are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the conductive material in the invention of group II could be formed by vapor deposition as opposed to additive plating as claimed in the invention of group I.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I is not required for Group II, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

During a telephone conversation with Mr. William Hogg on 31 July 2001 a provisional election was made without traverse to prosecute the invention of group II, claims 19-20. Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office action. Claims 1-9 have been withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

Claim 19 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Bhatt et al. (US 5,822,856).

Bhatt et al (hereafter Bhatt) discloses, referring to figures 3-5, a printed circuit card comprising a metal layer (wiring layer 306) sandwiched between a pair of dielectric layers (310 & 312), said dielectric layers being formed of a photoimaged cured dielectric material (see the abstract), metalization on each of the first and second layers (wiring layers 506 & 304 respectively) forming circuitry on the first and second layers of the photoimageable material, and metal filled vias (hole 332, only one shown but a plurality referred to) in the first layer of photoimageable material (312) connected to the circuitry and the metal layer, and an opening (hole 328) in the metal layer and in the first and second layers of photoimageable material, the opening being metallized to connect at least a portion of the circuitry on the first layer with a portion of circuitry on the second layer without contacting the metal layer.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claim 20 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bhatt et al.

Bhatt discloses the claimed invention as described above with respect to claim 19 except for the limitation that Bhatt does not specifically state that the holes and vias in the dielectric material be photoformed. However, this limitation is a process limitation in a product claim and cannot serve to patentably define the product over the prior art of record. Furthermore, it is well settled that the presence of process limitations in product claims, which product does not otherwise distinguish over the prior art, cannot impart patentability to that product (In re Johnson, 157 USPQ 670, 1968)..

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The following documents disclose multilayered boards with voltage planes:

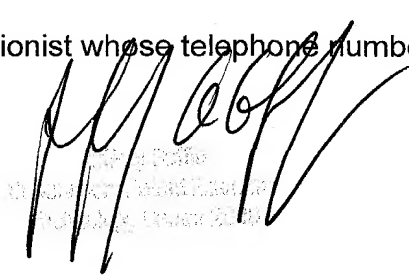

US 5,774,340	Chang et al.,
US 5,640,048	Selna,
US 5,448,020	Pendse.
